

Sales Associates, Kennedy Centre, Belfast

Time for a change of pace? Been looking to move it up a gear? Ready for a new challenge?

Louis Boyd is opening a new premium menswear store in the Kennedy Centre, Belfast. We are on the hunt for dedicated, committed, hard workers with a passion for men's fashion. You will be responsible for continuing our 59-year story which began with a handful of shirts and ties in a humble Co. Down shop in 1960 and today stands as a market leader in the retail world.

Who Are We?

Louis Boyd founded the flagship store in September 1960, when he was just 26 years old, as one of the first dedicated menswear retailers in the town of Newry, Co. Down. Louis Boyd Fashions, as it was then known, grew hugely in popularity, providing the people of Newry with brands and styles that they had rarely seen before.

Over the years, men and women got a taste of top brands and new styles, such as tapered trousers, slim fit shirts and more, all of which were available at Louis Boyd's. Louis was responsible for introducing jeans to the town, making the store a mecca for jeans throughout the country.

Today, the business has evolved to house many branches across five locations, specialising in casual wear, footwear and formal wear, as well as the hiring and buying of menswear for formal occasions. We stock top brands and continue to expand our range of suppliers, to service the customer with the most complete experience.

What is the Role?

- Serving our customers to ensure they are smiling from the moment they enter our store until long after they have left.
- Listening to, understanding and helping with customer queries and complaints.
- Effectively using our technology systems, including to process sales and handle payments.
- Maintain the atmosphere of our store, to include merchandising, tidying and cleaning.
- Aiding the manager and assistant manager in their duties, where necessary (this includes accepting deliveries).

What do we want to see in you?

- Passion, dedication and commitment to men's fashion.
- An appreciation of and an investment in our brand.
- A reliable, motivated, enthusiastic and confident individual.
- Ability to be a key player in a team, recognising your own contribution and that of others.
- Great communicator with excellent customer service skills.
- The ability to work in a fast-paced, pressured environment while keeping calm and cool.

The Fine Details

- Full-time and part-time roles available for an April start.
- Contracts available to suit individuals hoping to work day-time, evening-time and weekend.
- Remuneration is experience-dependent and will be in line with current industry standards.
- Candidates should forward a copy of their CV to jobs@louisboyd.com quoting "Sales Associate Kennedy Centre Part-time" or "Sales Associates Kennedy Centre Full-time" in the subject line.
- The closing date for applications to this role is Wednesday 20th March 2019.

Assistant Manager, Kennedy Centre, Belfast

Time for a change of pace? Been looking to move it up a gear? Ready for a new challenge?

Louis Boyd is opening a new premium menswear store in the Kennedy Centre, Belfast. We are on the hunt for dedicated, committed, hard workers with a passion for men's fashion. You will be responsible for continuing our 59-year story which began with a handful of shirts and ties in a humble Co. Down shop in 1960 and today stands as a market leader in the retail world.

Who Are We?

Louis Boyd founded the flagship store in September 1960, when he was just 26 years old, as one of the first dedicated menswear retailers in the town of Newry, Co. Down. Louis Boyd Fashions, as it was then known, grew hugely in popularity, providing the people of Newry with brands and styles that they had rarely seen before.

Over the years, men and women got a taste of top brands and new styles, such as tapered trousers, slim fit shirts and more, all of which were available at Louis Boyd's. Louis was responsible for introducing jeans to the town, making the store a mecca for jeans throughout the country.

Today, the business has evolved to house many branches across five locations, specialising in casual wear, footwear and formal wear, as well as the hiring and buying of menswear for formal occasions. We stock top brands and continue to expand our range of suppliers, to service the customer with the most complete experience.

What is the Role?

- Serving our customers to ensure they are smiling from the moment they enter our store until long after they have left.
- Listening to, understanding and helping with customer queries and complaints.
- Effectively using our technology systems, including to process sales and handle payments.
- Maintain the atmosphere of the shop, to include merchandising, tidying and cleaning.
- Manage and motivate the team to ensure that a productive working atmosphere is present.
- Manage stock and analyse sales to best meet targets.

What do we want to see in you?

- Passion, dedication and commitment to men's fashion.
- An appreciation of and an investment in our brand.
- A reliable, motivated, enthusiastic and confident individual.
- Ability to be a key player in a team, recognising your own contribution and that of others.
- Great communicator with excellent customer service skills.
- The ability to work in a fast-paced, pressured environment while keeping calm and cool.

The Fine Details

- This is a full-time role for an April start and you should be available to work evenings and weekends.
- Remuneration is experience-dependent and will be in line with current industry standards.
- Candidates should forward a copy of their CV to jobs@louisboyd.com quoting "Assistant Manager Kennedy Centre" in the subject line.
- The closing date for applications to this role is Wednesday 6th March 2019.

Manager, Kennedy Centre, Belfast

Time for a change of pace? Been looking to move it up a gear? Ready for a new challenge?

Louis Boyd is opening a new premium menswear store in the Kennedy Centre, Belfast. We are on the hunt for dedicated, committed, hard workers with a passion for men's fashion. You will be responsible for continuing our 59-year story which began with a handful of shirts and ties in a humble Co. Down shop in 1960 and today stands as a market leader in the retail world.

Who Are We?

Louis Boyd founded the flagship store in September 1960, when he was just 26 years old, as one of the first dedicated menswear retailers in the town of Newry, Co. Down. Louis Boyd Fashions, as it was then known, grew hugely in popularity, providing the people of Newry with brands and styles that they had rarely seen before.

Over the years, men and women got a taste of top brands and new styles, such as tapered trousers, slim fit shirts and more, all of which were available at Louis Boyd's. Louis was responsible for introducing jeans to the town, making the store a mecca for jeans throughout the country.

Today, the business has evolved to house many branches across five locations, specialising in casual wear, footwear and formal wear, as well as the hiring and buying of menswear for formal occasions. We stock top brands and continue to expand our range of suppliers, to service the customer with the most complete experience.

What is the Role?

- Serving our customers to ensure they are smiling from the moment they enter our store until long after they have left.
- Listening to, understanding and helping with customer queries and complaints.
- Effectively using our technology systems, including to process sales and handle payments.
- Maintain the atmosphere of the shop, to include merchandising, tidying and cleaning.
- Manage and motivate the team to ensure that a productive working atmosphere is present.
- Manage stock and analyse sales to best meet targets.

What do we want to see in you?

- Passion, dedication and commitment to men's fashion.
- An appreciation of and an investment in our brand.
- A reliable, motivated, enthusiastic and confident individual.
- Ability to be a key player in a team, recognising your own contribution and that of others.
- Great communicator with excellent customer service skills.
- The ability to work in a fast-paced, pressured environment while keeping calm and cool.

The Fine Details

- This is a full-time role for an April start and you should be available to work evenings and weekends.
- Remuneration is experience-dependent and will be in line with current industry standards.
- Candidates should forward a copy of their CV to jobs@louisboyd.com quoting "Manager Kennedy Centre" in the subject line.
- The closing date for applications to this role is Wednesday 6th March 2019.